COMPLAINT

Plaintiff, Hollander Glass Texas, Inc. (“Hollander”), by and through its attorneys, for its complaint against Defendants, Rosen-Paramount Glass Co., Inc., doing business as Kauder Glass & Mirror (“RPG”), and Stanley Rosen (“Rosen”) (collectively, “Defendants”), hereby alleges as follows:

NATURE OF ACTION

1. In this action, Hollander seeks injunctive relief, damages and/or statutory damages and attorneys’ fees for Defendants’ acts of willful copyright infringement pursuant to the United States Copyright Act, 17 U.S.C. §§ 101 et seq., injunctive relief, lost profits, damages and attorneys’ fees for Defendants’ acts of willful trademark infringement, false designation of origin, false descriptions, and unfair competition, pursuant to the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1051 et seq., and trademark infringement and dilution, injury to business reputation and dilution, and unfair competition under the common law and statutes of the State of New York.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

2. This Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this action pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1121 and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1332, 1338, and 1367.

3. The actions of Defendants complained of in this Complaint have been and continue to be committed within the Southern District of New York.

4. Upon information and belief, RPG is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of New York, with its place of business in New York and this judicial district.

5. Upon information and belief, Rosen is a resident of New York and/or maintains a place of business in New York and this judicial district.

6. Upon information and belief, Defendants reside, contract to supply goods and/or services, and/or transact business in New York and within this judicial district, and the tortious acts of Defendants complained of in this Complaint have caused harm and are causing harm to Hollander within this judicial district. Accordingly, personal jurisdiction exists over Defendants pursuant to CPLR §§ 301 and 302.

7. Venue is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391.

THE PARTIES

8. Plaintiff Hollander is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Texas, having its principal place of business at 5455 Guhn Road, Houston, Texas 77040.

9. Upon information and belief, Defendant RPG is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of New York, having its principal place of business at 2990 Jerome Avenue, Bronx, New York 10468.

10. Upon information and belief, Defendant Rosen has a home address in the State of New York, and is the president and/or chief executive officer of RPG.

11. Upon information and belief, Rosen, in his capacity as an officer, director and/or principal of RPG, has aided, abetted, controlled, actively directed and caused RPG to commit the acts complained of in this Complaint.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

12. Hollander is a well-known and established manufacturer and distributor of architectural window glass and other specialty glass products and accessories. Hollander and its predecessors-in-interest have been selling its renowned glass and related products at wholesale to and through dealers, architects, contractors, retailers and educational institutions throughout the United States and internationally since 1956.

13. On information and belief, RPG is a wholesale re-seller of various glass products, accessories, and related installation and other services.

14. On information and belief, RPG has purchased glass products from Hollander for resale to RPG's customers from time to time, but RPG no longer sells Hollander glass products and RPG did not and does not maintain an inventory of Hollander glass products.

Hollander's Registered Trademark

15. Hollander has adopted and used, and thus is the owner of several trademarks in connection with its products and services, including, without limitation, the registered trademark "WINTERLAKE" (the "Trademark").

16. Hollander is the owner of U.S. Trademark Registration No. 3625813 for the Trademark (the "Registration"), registered in International Class 21 for use in connection with decorative glass not for building purposes, namely, pattern glass.

17. Hollander has used the Trademark openly, notoriously, and continuously in interstate commerce since at least October, 2007, a time prior to any of the acts of Defendants complained of herein.

18. The Trademark is incontestable.

19. The Trademark is inherently distinctive and commercially strong.

20. Because of Hollander's extensive use and promotions of the Trademark, and in light of the unsolicited media coverage and notoriety pertaining to Hollander, Hollander's goods and trademarks, including the Trademark, the Trademark has become distinctive and prominent, indicates a single source of origin of Hollander's goods and services, and has acquired a secondary meaning.

21. By virtue of Hollander's use, advertising, promotion and sales of goods and services bearing the Trademark, and unsolicited media coverage featuring the Trademark, the Trademark has become associated with Hollander and an association has been created between Hollander and its Trademark in the mind of consumers.

Hollander's Copyright

22. Hollander owns and operates the website located on the Internet at www.hollanderglass.com (the "Hollander Website"), including all of the text, photographs, two-dimensional artwork, and other original content (the "Hollander Website Content") which appears and is hosted on the Hollander Website, and including any and all rights under the United States copyright laws pertaining to, and/or inherent in the Hollander Website Content.

23. Hollander owns U.S. Copyright Registration No. VA 1-899-798 (the "Copyright Registration") for a portion of the Hollander Website Content (located on the Hollander Website at www.hollanderglass.com/texas/txarchclrhme.shtml) which publishes and displays photographs of various examples of Hollander's "Clear Patterned Architectural Glass" products, together with associated two-dimensional artwork and text material (collectively, the "Work"). A copy of the Work and the Copyright Registration is attached to this Complaint as Exhibit A.

24. Hollander owns all rights under the United States copyright laws pertaining to, and/or inherent in the Work (the "Copyright"), which Copyright is valid and subsisting.

25. The Work was completed and first published as part of the Website Content on or before January 2, 2011.

26. The Copyright Registration constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity of, and of Hollander's ownership of the Copyright in the Work.

Defendant's Copyright Infringement

27. On information and belief, RPG owns the domain name <http://www.rosenparamountglass.com> and owns and operates the website located on the Internet at that address (the "RPG Website").

28. Without license or authority from Hollander, Rosen caused RPG to copy Hollander's Work, and without license or authority from Hollander, RPG has published its unauthorized copy of the Work and made it available for view, display, and further copying by the public by posting it to RPG's Website

29. The home, or landing page of RPG's Website contains a list of links to various web pages, including a link entitled "Glass & Mirrors" which itself links via drop-down menu to a group of webpages including a webpage entitled "Texture Glass," which webpage is located at www.rosenparamountglass.com/glass_mirrors/texture_glass.php (the "Infringing Webpage"). A copy of the Infringing Webpage is attached to this Complaint as Exhibit B.

30. The Infringing Webpage displays an exact duplicate copy of Hollander's Work, which is subject to Hollander's Copyright and protected by the Copyright Registration.

31. Hollander has never granted a license or authority to Rosen or to RPG to use, copy, display, or publish the Work, or any photograph, text, or two-dimensional artwork contained in or comprising all or any portion of the Work.

32. On information and belief, Defendants use the RPG Website to advertise and promote RPG's glass products and related services and accessories. By publishing and displaying the Work on the RPG Website, Defendants have utilized the Work without license or authority from Hollander, thereby infringing Hollander's Copyright, to generate revenue through the marketing, advertising, and sale of RPG's goods and services.

Defendants' Trademark Infringements

33. The Infringing Webpage also displays, without Hollander's authority, permission, consent, and/or license, Hollander's registered Trademark WINTERLAKE in connection with a photograph copied from the Work.

34. On information and belief, RPG does not actively or currently sell Hollander glass products, sold only $367 worth of Hollander glass products in 2016, and has never maintained and does not have an inventory of Hollander glass products available for sale.

35. Defendants are using the Trademark WINTERLAKE and are creating a likelihood of confusion in violation of the Lanham Act, specifically initial interest confusion, by misleading consumers into believing that RPG sells Hollander glass products, or is otherwise affiliated with or sponsored by Hollander.

36. Further by using Hollander's Registered Trademark WINTERLAKE on the Infringing Webpage to sell RPG's products and services in connection with photographs of Hollander Clear Patterned Architectural Glass products and the Work, Defendants are using a trademark, “Winterlake” (the “Infringing Winterlake Mark”) which is identical and/or confusingly similar to Hollander’s registered Trademark WINTERLAKE in sight, sound and connotation, and are creating a likelihood of confusion in violation of the Lanham Act by using the Infringing Winterlake Mark to pass off third-party goods which are not Hollander products as Hollander products.

37. Without the authorization or consent of Hollander and after Hollander built up extensive and valuable business and goodwill in connection with the Trademark, Defendants commenced to use the Infringing Winterlake mark.

38. Upon information and belief, Defendants were aware of Hollander and Hollander’s use of its Trademark in connection with Hollander’s goods and services at the time Defendants adopted and began to use the Infringing Winterlake Mark.

39. Hollander and Defendants are engaged in the business of providing similar products to the same classes of customers, through the same and/or similar channels of trade.

40. Upon information and belief, Defendants adopted and commenced use of the Infringing Winterlake Mark with the intent to deceive consumers and to cause confusion among purchasers for the purpose of benefitting from the goodwill and public recognition associated with Hollander’s Trademark and diverting sales from Hollander to RPG.

41. The aforementioned acts of Defendants have caused and will continue to cause actual confusion and a likelihood of confusion in the minds of the trade and the public, and will damage Hollander’s reputation and goodwill in connection with its Trademark.

42. On or about December 28, 2016, Hollander contacted Defendants by email and requested that Defendants remove the Work and the Infringing Winterlake Mark from the Infringing Webpage on the RPG Website.

43. On or about December 29, 2016, Defendants replied by email stating that Defendants were using the Work and the Trademark to make it easier for customers to have better access to Hollander's products, and that Defendants allegedly had permission from the "previous owner" to use the Work and the Trademark.

44. However, nowhere on the Infringing Webpage does it state or claim that any Hollander glass products, let alone any Hollander "Winterlake" glass products, are sold or available for sale by RPG, or that any of the glass products depicted in any of the photographs contained in the Work displayed on the Infringing Webpage are, in fact, Hollander products.

45. On or about December 29, 2016, Hollander replied by email to Defendants stating that RPG had only purchased $367 of Hollander's products in 2016, and was never authorized to publish and display the Work or the Trademark. Notwithstanding this email, Defendants continued to display the Work and the Trademark on the Infringing Webpage.

46. On or about January 19, 2017, Hollander, by and through its attorneys, sent a cease and desist letter to Defendants regarding the Infringing Webpage and RPG's infringing use of the Work and the Trademark, but RPG did not respond.

47. On or about March 9, 2017, Hollander, by and through its attorneys, sent a second cease and desist letter to Defendants regarding the Infringing Webpage and the infringing use of the Work and the Trademark, but RPG again did not respond.

48. Notwithstanding Hollander's requests, Defendants have continued to use the Trademark and have continued to display their illicit copy of Hollander's Work, all without Hollander's license or authorization.

COUNT I
INTENTIONAL COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT

49. Hollander repeats and realleges each of the allegations made in the preceding paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.

50. Hollander is the owner of the Work, which constitutes original and copyrightable subject matter under the copyright laws of the United States, and Hollander has duly complied with all of the relevant provisions of Title 17 of the United States Code with respect thereto.

51. Hollander has duly requested and secured from the Register of Copyrights a Certificate of Registration for the Work, namely the Copyright Registration annexed hereto at Exhibit A.

52. Defendants have infringed Hollander's Copyright in and to the Work embodied in the Copyright Registration, by copying, publishing and displaying the Work and/or photographs, text, and/or two-dimensional artwork which are identical and/or substantially similar to the Work on the Infringing Webpage, all in violation of Title 17 of the United States Code.

53. On information and belief, Defendants' conduct and infringement of Hollander's rights have been willful and deliberate.

54. On information and belief, Defendants' unlawful actions have interfered with Hollander's sales of its glass products and accessories, have unfairly diverted revenue to Defendant RPG, and have caused Hollander monetary damage.

55. The acts of Defendants have caused irreparable harm and damage to Hollander and will continue to cause irreparable harm to Hollander, and have caused Hollander to suffer monetary damage in an amount thus far not determined.

56. Hollander has no adequate remedy at law for the injury alleged in this count, and said injury is, in part, intangible in nature and not capable of being fully measured or valued entirely in terms of monetary damages.

57. Upon information and belief, Defendants will continue to infringe Hollander's rights unless enjoined by this Court.

58. Based upon Defendants' acts of infringement, Hollander is entitled to injunctive relief, monetary damages, and its cost and fees.

COUNT II
REGISTERED TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT (LANHAM ACT § 32)

59. Hollander repeats and realleges each and every allegation contained in the prior paragraphs hereto and the same are incorporated herein and made a part hereof.

60. Under 15 U.S.C. §1057(b), the Registration constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity of the Trademark and of Hollander's registration of the Trademark, of Hollander's ownership of the Trademark, and of Hollander's exclusive right to use the Trademark in commerce on or in connection with the goods or services specified in the registration certificate.

61. The Registration is incontestable.

62. Defendants' adoption and use of the Infringing Winterlake Mark constitutes use of a trademark in commerce within the meaning of 15 U.S.C. §1114(1)(a).

63. Defendants' use of the Infringing Winterlake Mark in connection with the marketing, promotion, offering for sale and sale of RPG's goods and services on the Infringing Webpage creates a likelihood of confusion with Hollander, Hollander's registered Trademark, and Hollander's goods and services offered and sold in connection with its Trademark.

64. The Infringing Winterlake Mark is identical and confusingly similar to Hollander's Trademark in sight, sound and connotation.

65. Hollander's Registered Trademark is a strong trademark based on its inherent and commercial strength.

66. Hollander's goods and services are offered, sold, distributed, furnished and/or advertised to the same or similar classes of purchasers as Defendants' goods and services.

67. Upon information and belief, Defendants were aware of Hollander and of Hollander's use of its Trademark prior to the time Defendants selected and commenced use of the Infringing Winterlake Mark.

68. Upon information and belief, based upon, without limitation, the similarity of the parties' respective marks, the similar classes of purchasers for Hollander's and Defendants' goods and services, and Defendants' prior knowledge of Hollander and Hollander's use of its Trademark, Defendants adopted and use the Infringing Winterlake Mark with the intent to cause confusion among consumers and with the purpose of benefitting from Hollander's reputation and goodwill; thus, Defendants' conduct constitutes willful trademark infringement.

69. As a result of Defendants' conduct, a strong likelihood of confusion, mistake, or deception has been created, and many persons familiar with Hollander's Trademark, and Hollander's favorable reputation and goodwill, are likely to purchase Defendants' goods and/or services in the mistaken belief that Defendant RPG is affiliated with or sponsored by Hollander, and/or that the goods and services sold by Defendant RPG originate from Hollander or are provided by or otherwise authorized or sponsored by Hollander.

70. By virtue of Defendants' conduct, Defendants have infringed and are infringing Hollander's registered Trademark, in violation of the Lanham Act § 32, 15 U.S.C. § 1114(1), by using marks wherein such use is likely to cause confusion, or to cause mistake or to deceive.

71. Defendants intend to make, and have made unlawful gains and profits from such unlawful infringement and, by reason thereof, Hollander has been and will be deprived of rights and profits which otherwise would have come to Hollander but for such infringements.

72. Hollander has no adequate remedy at law for the injury alleged in this Count. The injury is intangible in nature and not capable of being fully measured or valued in terms of money damages. Further, the injury is of a continuing nature and will continue to be suffered so long as Defendants continue its wrongful conduct.

73. Defendants' acts are willful, malicious and wanton and Defendants will continue its acts of willful infringement unless enjoined by this Court.

74. Notwithstanding the inadequacy of and the difficulty of presently fully ascertaining Hollander's monetary damages caused by Defendants' wrongful conduct, Hollander is informed and believes and, based upon such information and belief, alleges that said conduct has resulted in irreparable, direct and proximate damages to Hollander. Hollander seeks leave of this Court to amend its complaint to allege the full nature and extent of said monetary damages, if and when, and to the extent the damages are ascertained.

COUNT III
TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT, FALSE DESIGNATION OF ORIGIN,
FALSE DESCRIPTION, AND UNFAIR COMPETITION (LANHAM ACT § 43(a))

76. The Trademark is inherently distinctive.

77. The Trademark has acquired distinctiveness and a secondary meaning.

78. Defendants' publication and use of the Infringing Winterlake Mark on the Infringing Webpage creates a likelihood of confusion with Hollander, Hollander's Trademark, and Hollander's goods and services offered and sold in connection with the Trademark.

79. The Infringing Winterlake Mark is identical to and confusingly similar with the Trademark in sight, sound and connotation.

80. The Trademark is a strong trademark based on both its inherent and commercial strength.

81. Hollander's goods and services are offered, sold, distributed, furnished and/or advertised to the same or similar classes of purchasers as Defendants' goods and services.

82. Upon information and belief, Defendants were aware of Hollander and of Hollander's use of its Trademark prior to the time Defendants selected, registered, and commenced using the Infringing Winterlake Mark.

83. Upon information and belief, based upon, without limitation, the similarity of the parties' respective marks, and Defendants' prior knowledge of Hollander and Hollander's use of its Trademark, Defendants adopted and used the Infringing Winterlake Mark with the intent to cause confusion among consumers and with the purpose of benefitting from Hollander's reputation and goodwill, and Defendants' conduct constitutes willful trademark infringement and unfair competition.

84. The acts and conduct of Defendants are willful, unfair, untrue and deceptive, in that they intend to mislead, deceive and confuse, and have had and continue to have the result of misleading, deceiving and confusing the public to believe that Defendants, RPG's goods and services, and/or the Infringing Webpage are affiliated with, sponsored or controlled by Hollander. As a consequence, Defendants attempt to trade upon, and gain public acceptance and other benefits from Hollander's favorable reputation, which has accordingly, been placed at risk by Defendants' illegal acts and conduct.

85. The acts of Defendants constitute infringement of the Trademark, and the use of a false designations of origin, false representations, and unfair competition, by inducing the erroneous belief that Defendants, RPG's goods and services, and/or the Infringing Webpage are in some manner affiliated with, originate from, and/or are sponsored by Hollander, and by misrepresenting the nature and/or origin of Defendants' goods and services, are all in violation of Lanham Act § 43(a), 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a).

86. The acts of Defendants have caused irreparable harm and damage to Hollander and will continue to cause irreparable harm to Hollander, and have caused and will continue to cause Hollander to suffer monetary damage in an amount thus far not determined.

87. Hollander has no adequate remedy at law for the injury alleged in this count, and said injury is, in part, intangible in nature and not capable of being fully measured or valued entirely in terms of monetary damages.

88. Notwithstanding the inadequacy of and the difficulty of presently fully ascertaining Hollander's monetary damages caused by Defendants' wrongful conduct, Hollander is informed and believes and, based upon such information and belief, alleges that said conduct has resulted in irreparable, direct and proximate damages to Hollander. Hollander seeks leave of this Court to amend its complaint to allege the full nature and extent of said monetary damages if, when and to the extent the damages are ascertained.

93. Defendants appropriated Hollander's Trademark by using the Infringing Winterlake Mark and the Infringing Webpage, both which are confusingly and substantially similar to the Trademark.

94. The forgoing acts of Defendants will create a likelihood of dilution by blurring, in that Defendants' use of the Infringing Winterlake Mark and Infringing Webpage will cause Hollander's Trademark to lose its ability to serve as a unique identifier of Hollander's goods and services.

95. Upon information and belief, Hollander's goods and services are of superior quality as compared to Defendants' goods and services and thus, the forgoing acts of Defendants will create a likelihood of dilution by tarnishment, in that Defendants' Infringing Winterlake Mark and Defendants' inferior goods and services will be associated with Hollander and Hollander's Trademark.

96. Based on the foregoing, Defendants have violated New York Gen. Bus. Law § 360-1, for which Hollander is entitled to injunctive relief.

Clear Patterned Architectural Glass

Hollander Glass is the industry's leading supplier of clear patterned architectural glass. Our five North American distribution centers are fully stocked and ready to deliver the largest selection at the best price and without expensive, transcontinental freight. We are the exclusive North American distributors for much of this glass.

Our extensive product line is divided into four levels of obscurity to assist in your selection:

Transparent Glass (Level 1)

This glass is clear with very slight, if any distortion of the image viewed through it. However, it has considerable character derived from the irregularities within and upon the surface of the glass.
